

It was a busy day and I didn't have time for distractions.

It was a busy day and I didn't have time for distractions. I knew my customers would be angry if I wasn't there. But something big was happening, so I went anyway. A teacher, one who people say can do miracles, was just outside of town. Crowds were following him everywhere.

When I got there, I saw that thousands of us had gathered to hear and see what he would do.

We listened closely—the day went by so fast that no one realized just how late it had gotten. All of a sudden, we realized we were hungry and there was no food.

That's when the teacher turned to one of his friends and asked him, "Where are we going to buy food for all these people?" The friend replied, "A whole bakery couldn't feed this crowd!" Another of the friends noticed something and said, "There's a boy over there that has some bread and fish, but that won't go far here." I wondered why he even mentioned that tiny amount of food.

But then something unexpected happened. The teacher took the boy's bread, gave thanks for it, and started passing it out. Somehow the food kept multiplying. It just kept coming and coming. We all ate until we were completely full, and there were even leftovers!

The teacher took the boy's bread, gave thanks for it, and started passing it out.

The next day, a bunch of us wanted to see what else would happen. Some people were just looking for more food. So we tracked the teacher down. A crowd formed again. That's when the teacher turned to us and said: "I am the Bread of Life, the living bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever."

"I am the Bread of Life..."

Today, two thousand years later, people still have the same hunger that Jesus, the Teacher, spoke about. Our needs are much more than physical. We feel that same spiritual and emotional hunger, and we're looking for answers.

Are you hungry?

Jesus wants to give you the opportunity to be "completely full" forever.
